COIN HARVEY'S APPRECIATION.

We acknowledge receipt of W. H. Harvey's newest book, "The Remedy." It was sent from his home in Monte Ne, Ark., and on the flyleaf it was presented by the author to The Ardmoreite as an evidence of appreciation for the editorial published a few days ago on "Team Work."

Mr. Harvey is the author of "Coin's Financial School" and "A Tale of Two Nations," which had sales of more than a million copies each.

While you are trudging along, doing about the best you can, suppose you try shopping a little more during the morning hours. The clerks are idle then, they are fresh and eager to serve you. In the afternoons everybody comes to trade. The clerk is overworked, he has less time to assist you, and your purchases are a little less satisfactory. Besides, there is a humane principle back of shopping in the morning hours. Try it for a week, and note the difference.

William A. Durant has given his services to Oklahoma since statehood for the sum of $180 a year, is now receiving $300 a month for a limited time, and there are some who object. Out of this salary he must pay his expenses, and any man who knows what it costs to be on the road will know that the pay is not exorbitant. Bill Durant is worth the money, and Governor Williams says the constitution has not been violated, and we are willing to take his word on constitutional questions.

The Husonian of Hugo gathers an important advertising lesson out of the sinking of the Lusitania. The editor concludes that people from this time on will accept advertising as the truth. Germany advertised that the vessel would be sunk, and carried out the threat.

A new fountain is being installed in Vinita, and The Leader wants it named in honor of Elbert Hubbard. If that is done, Vinita should be more attentive to it than Ardmore has been to its Frances Willard memorial at the corner of Main and Washington.

Someone in McAlester evidently wants J. Roy Williams of the News-Capital to clean out the joints and depopulate the city of a certain class of its female citizenship. He gracefully declines to do the work assigned by law to the police.

"Not on the program stuff" in vaudeville was staged for the bankers says the Tulsa World, and the query naturally comes if another Queenie incident has been introduced.

One of the happy influences in this country is the confidence the people have in the ability of Dr. Wilson to successfully handle war fever.

Talking of sheep's clothing, what do you think of the Arkansians distillers who had rooms at the Y. M. C. A. in Kansas City?

If Colquitt were governor of Texas he would have Rangers on the way to Germany.

The equal suffrage movement has been drowned in the din of battle.

CHRISTIAN KILLERS.

Some of the current numbers of the magazines carry fiery comments on the massacre of Christians by the Kurds and Turks. But what is the matter with the massacre of Christians by Christians?—Beaumont Journal.

All the Christians ever killed by heathens would not be a corporal's guard in comparison with the vast army of Christians whom other Christians have struck down. And when the heathen tell the missionaries these things it requires considerable missionary agility to be able to respond convincingly. It does, it does!—State Press, in Dallas News.

Radium Used to Promote Plant Growth.

Some of the remarkable properties of radium are being demonstrated by an exhibitor in the Liberal Arts building at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, in connection with a new invention making possible the radiating of water for medicinal purposes.

Demonstrating the power of this mineral promoting metabolism a number of young plants, some existing with and some without the aid of radium, are shown. Those in the radio-active soils are seen to be growing much more rapidly than those in common soil, and to have a more healthy appearance.

This inventor has found a process of impregnating terra cotta bricks with radium-bearing minerals, and these small bricks placed in water are said to give it remarkable curative properties. The porous bricks last almost indefinitely, losing only half their potency, it is estimated, in 1,800 years. Since the discovery of this mineral it has been found that many celebrated waters, as Carlsbad and Baden Baden, owe their health-giving properties to radium. The inventor claims that his process produces in ordinary waters the qualities of these famous springs.

The radium ore used in the manufacture of radioactive terra cotta is known as carnotite, a formation found mainly in Colorado and Utah, and now producing three-fourths of the world's radium. The European mineral, known as pitchblende, from which the famous European springs are impregnated, is also displayed.

Most Rapid Photographs Ever Taken.

The most remarkable set of speed photographs ever taken are a part of the war department's exhibit in Machinery Hall at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco. They are pictures of a shell from a 12-inch coast defense gun in flight, the set including the various phases of the flight beginning just as the great projectile pokes its nose out of the muzzle of the gun.

The pictures were taken with a lens having an exposure period of one five-thousandth of a second, this being the fastest shutter ever manufactured. The exposure at the proper time in the flight of the projectile was made by breaking an electric circuit in a wire stretched across the trajectory at the desired point and connecting with the shutter.

One picture shows the shell halfway out of the muzzle before any smoke and gas has escaped. Another was taken when the shell was two feet from the muzzle but hidden by a heavy ring of smoke. A third shows the shell in flight a hundred feet from the muzzle. The photographs are so perfect and the exposure so rapid that scarcely any blur is perceptible. They were taken at Fortress Monroe, Va., under the direction of Capt. F. J. Behl of the coast artillery corps and lead of the department of enlisted specialists at the Coast Artillery school at Fortress Monroe.

NATIVE LIFE OF THE FAR PACIFIC.

The photograph shows the belle of the interesting Samoan village at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco. The structures in this village, comprising the native thatched huts of the Samoan, or as they were formerly called, the Navigator Islands, were brought intact from the native villages and are absolutely faithful in all their features. There are many native families living in the village who for the edification of visitors perform the aquatic feats in which the islanders excel, and dance the rhythmic native dances. The life of the people of the Pacific ocean is wonderfully illustrated at the Exposition, and of all the races none are more interesting than the Samoans who exhibit many traces of Aryan descent. No Exposition visitor should fail to see these unique tribespeople.

SCHOOL LAND TRANSFERS ARE FILED

PURCHASERS CAN SELL LAND TO OTHERS UNDER NEW LAW — CLAIMED THAT STATE WILL PROFIT THEREBY.

Oklahoma City, May 16.—Transfers of school lands in the counties of the Oklahoma Panhandle are being filed in the office of the board of school land commissioners in large numbers. These transfers are to several large cattlemen who have been leasing the school lands, both before the sales of last year and the preceding year, and since. The lands are considered of value only for pasture. The laws have heretofore restricted purchasers to a maximum of two sections and forbidden transfer of parcels purchased until payments to the state had all been made. The recent legislature changed this to permit transfers subject to approval by the school land commissioners.

When the sales were made of lands in Cimarron, Beaver and Texas counties the large pastures were bought up in many instances by the lessees of the area under powers of attorney from friends and acquaintances. The passage of the law in question has made it possible for the lessees to acquire the rights of the purchasers by transfers of sale certificates. If the law had not been changed, it is assumed that the purchases made in the names of friends by parties at interest would have been allowed to lapse so that leases might be made again from the school land office.

It is pointed out that the state will profit by the sale and transfer to the cattlemen in that the lease figure was an average of 3c an acre a year, whereas the interest on payments amount to 21c an acre a year. By the cattlemen acquiring title to large bodies of this land the use of the country by live stock interests is assured, whereas if the titles had to be reverted to the state for non-payment the state would have been compelled again to sell the land and attempts at farming would have broken up the big pastures that are alleged to be good only for pasture.

The filing of these transfers is taken to be pretty good evidence that the sales as made were more or less tentative and that the object of purchasing on powers of attorney was to secure the lands as has been done. One large stockman recently registered in the land office transfers of all the certificates which he secured bidding with powers of attorney save one. In that case the purchaser named in the power of attorney is dead.

Notice.

The Robison Opera House building will be sold at sheriff's sale on Tuesday, May 18, at 2 p. m., at the front door of the court house. This will be an opportunity for someone to get a bargain. It is located at the corner of West Main and C street, S. W.

JOHNSON & MCGILL.

In the absence of any effort on the part of the city administration to make Ardmore a flyless town, the next best method is to enforce the principle by public sentiment. If the grocery buyers will make purchases only from such stores as protect vegetables and open goods from flies, every dealer will quickly respond to this sentiment, and at least some good will have been accomplished and a more advanced step will have been taken toward sanitation.

UNITED STATES COULD CRIPPLE GERMANY

IN EVENT OF WAR, THE UNITED STATES COULD APPROPRIATE MANY GERMAN SHIPS, VALUED AT $100,000,000.

New York, May 16.—That Uncle Sam, in the event of war with the Kaiser, would find himself in a position to seize $100,000,000 worth of German and Austrian steamers is shown at a glance at the list of vessels interned in American ports.

These ships include the flower of Germany's transatlantic liners, the floating hotels that a year ago were carrying the cream of the European traffic. A dozen of them are first-class passenger liners, and all except a few of those of Austrian register are in comparatively good condition.

Many estimates place the value of Austro-German ships lying in our ports at well over $100,000,000, but conservative steamship men consider the latter figure approximately correct.

The finest of the interned vessels are tied up in the port of New York and at Boston.

Largest Ship in World Interned.

The Vaterland of the Hamburg-American line, the largest vessel in the world, is lying at the Hamburg-American docks in Hoboken, having made only two and a half trips across the Atlantic. She was on her second visit to this country when the war interrupted her career. This giant of the seas heads the list of marine war prizes to which Uncle Sam might fall heir. She is 550 feet long, registers 50,000 tons and is valued by her owners at $12,000,000.

According to one of the crew, the Vaterland has been burning fifty tons of coal a day during the time she has been interned, and is in fine condition, notwithstanding the long period of idleness. It has been estimated, the Vaterland could carry 10,000 troops.

Besides the Vaterland, we have at Boston the Kron Princessin Cecilie, queen of the North German Lloyd fleet. Among American tourists the Cecilie was probably the most popular German liner.

The Hamburg-American Line has thirteen vessels interned, one being at Boston and twelve here. Next to the Vaterland, the Amerika, at Boston, is the most valuable, the rest of the fleet being first and second-class passenger carriers and freighters. Among the freighters are some of the greatest cargo-carriers in the world.

Six of North German Lloyd Interned

The North German Lloyd has six liners in American ports, all but one of them having been recently used as first-class passenger ships. Tied up at Hoboken piers with the Kaiser Wilhelm II, are the following Lloyd ships, Friedrich der Grosse, Konig Wilhelm II, the Princess Irene and the Grosser Kurfurst.

There are also four Austro-American Line vessels in this port, two of them having been engaged in passenger traffic between here and Trieste before hostilities began.

The total number of interned vessels in the port of New York include four Austrian and twenty-six German steamers and one German motor ship, one German ship and one German bark.

ERRETT DUNLAP PURCHASES SELVIDGE COLLEGE BUILDING

A deal was consummated this morning whereby Selvidge Business college changes hands, becoming the property of Errett Dunlap of this city. The deal was made through R. A. Fox, agent for the property, who stated that he thought the building would be converted into a modern flat. Mr. Dunlap could not be seen this morning to verify this statement, however. The property is surrounded by several of the finest flats in the city, and could easily be converted into one. The consideration involved in the deal is said to be $4,000.
